FAILING TO REMAIN ACTIVE

-Personnel who fail to meet activeness requirements during the period of one year, will become ineligible for new equipment issue, team building, promotion or R&R activities, and will be reviewed for capability if they are in a leadership position. They may also be eligible for removal from any special assignments or duties, demotion, or reassignment.

-Personnel who fail to meet activeness requirements for two years or more, but still show up for at least some events, will be removed from any leadership positions, special assignments or duties, and will be reassigned and/or demoted.

-Personnel who fail to show up for any events during a year will be deactivated, and be required to return any issued equipment.

-Personnel who fail to meet activeness, but do not want to be reassigned, may spend the equivalent amount of points required for activeness from their earned total. But may still face demotion if in a leadership role or position, and cannot be issued new equipment or be promoted until active again.
